

Talk about a finale! At the Project Runway fashion show held in NYC's Bryant Park during the first week of February, Heidi Klum revealed Victoria "Posh" Beckham as the celebrity judge who'll help pick the show's winner during a two-part finale on February 27 and March 5. Heidi says it was Posh who contacted the show about being a judge. And with her passion for fashion and superstar status, the star is sure to make the upcoming episodes must-see TV. Victoria's debut as a fashion critic also kicks off her career as a serious designer, since she recently confessed the reason her Spice Girls tour is ending was so she could focus on her own luxury fashion line (she already has a sunglasses and jeans collection). "I've been thinking about this for a long time," admits Posh. "I'm putting together a team now, so it will be my main project."

JORDACHE

Posh judges Project Runway

... and plans to launch her own

© BRIGHT TOP TO BOTTOM: MICHAEL ENTERWINE; THOMAS CONCORDIA (MAGNET); STEPHEN LOVERING/GETTY IMAGES FOR IMG; THOMAS CONCORDIA (MAGNET); ADRIAN LLOYD/GETTY IMAGES FOR IMG; GRAMMY AWARDS; BRYAN BEDDER/GETTY IMAGES FOR IMG; JOE KOHEN/WIREIMAGE

Hollywood loves the view

Eliza Dushku and Jaime King checked out the Badgley Mischka show. "I love their elegance," Jaime — a former model who used to walk the runway for the design duo — tells In Touch.

Carmen Electra and Rebecca Taylor are the designer's "They fit really" and bring out

IN TOUCH WEEKLY

1.10 BABY NEWS!

PREGNANT ANGELINA'S RISKY TRIP TO IRAQ

EXCLUSIVE

BRITNEY: I DON'T WANT MY KIDS BACK

SHOCKING CLAIMS: BRITNEY'S EX SHARES HER HEARTBREAKING CONFESSION!

SEAN PRESTON

JAYDEN

LARRY: LOSING DANNIELYNN?